

Annual Conference
Evaluation with New Mexico's Diverse Communities
Tuesday, October 2, 2018
Albuquerque, NM

Speaker: Robert Sturm

Make the Evaluation Fit: Community-based Evaluation in Indigenous Communities

Robert Sturm has worked in the nonprofit sector for more than thirty years, mostly in the areas of health promotion, education and community development. He has worked extensively with Native American nonprofits and communities and with Indigenous people in Mexico. Robert is a principal in Indigenous Methods where he collaborates with Dr. Lee Francis IV on efforts to decolonize philanthropy and the nonprofit world.